RECOMMENDATIONS

1. Invest in cost reduction initiatives: Given that salaries and wages account for a significant portion of expenses, implementing cost-saving measures such as employee training programs or process automation can help reduce costs.
2. Diversify revenue streams: To reduce dependence on product sales, the company should explore opportunities to diversify its revenue streams through expansion into new markets or services.
3. Improve cash flow management: Given that the company has a healthy cash position, it is essential to maintain effective cash flow management practices to ensure continued financial stability and flexibility.
